

Sustained success in Linbrooke Services is only achievable by the effective management of the organisation and by consistently attaining first class standards of safety and sustainability with outstanding customer service. Customer, staff, designers, specialist contractors, suppliers and other interested parties are encouraged to work with Linbrooke Services to achieve the objective. In particular, the active support and participation of our staff is essential to our success.

Linbrooke Services collaborative working strategy with our clients and supply chain is designed to introduce greater levels of innovation and deliver value for money. Knowledge and experience are essential, but it is through collaborative working that cost efficient and value adding solutions will be found. Working together with our clients and suppliers, from the early stages, will enable us to overcome uncertainties and risks in pursuit of such value

BS11000 provides us with the strategic framework to develop the policies and processes, the culture and behaviours required to establish successful collaborative relationships, drive continual improvement and harness the strength of the diversity within groups of organisations. We are totally committed to developing collaborative business relationship and believe that they add value and lead to increased trust and confidence between all involved

Linbrooke Services are committed to the continuing progress of the collaborative business relationship management process and we want Linbrooke employees to be committed, to the principles of collaboration.

Lee Hallam
CEO
Date: May 2017